

Ladies Studying Jesus

Homework Vol. 7#1

1. Welcome back to Bible study! Come prepared to share about your summer, perhaps a favorite activity, something you learned from your Bible study, or an answer to prayer.

Read Luke 13:22-35

2. Teaching the life of Jesus in chronological order is not easily done, as each Gospel writer had a distinct purpose for writing. Luke often seeks to fill in the gaps that the other writers left out, yet he gives wonderful insights into the person of Jesus. Give three characteristics of Jesus given in this passage and the verse where you find it.

3. “Lord, are there few that be saved?” (v. 23) is a sad question we often wonder about even today in the 21st century. What was the central point of Jesus’ response?

Ladies Studying Jesus

Homework Vol. 7#2

1. In Luke 13:24, Jesus said that one should “strive” (agonize, strain, struggle) to enter into salvation. As you examine your journey towards a true understanding of salvation, was there a time of striving and conflict within yourself? Write a brief paragraph concerning the struggle within your soul as you came to Jesus.

Reread Luke 13:22-35

2. In verse 34, Jesus tells of His great love and compassion for Jerusalem.

What was His illustration from nature when speaking about His love?

What was Jerusalem’s response to His love and compassion?

3. Find three verses in the Bible that tell of God’s great love and compassion for all sinners. Write them out.

3. Jesus told His listeners in verse 35 that their “house is left unto you desolate.” Bible teachers believe He was looking toward the great destruction of Jerusalem and the temple, which occurred in 70 AD. Do some historical research concerning that destruction. Bring several interesting facts to share at Bible study.
